You never know what to say
You never know what to say

I'm tryin' to pick up all the signs
And see what's going through your mind
I find it hard to read your lines
I wanna know just what you think (yeah)
I'm running circles in my head
So much about you I don't get Feels like my heart is so in debt
To every single word you've said

[Chorus:]

You always just walk away
You never know what to say
You always just turn around and lead me on to other things
Wondering, wondering what you're feeling inside
Wondering, wondering baby could I be your guy
And you always just walk away, you never know what to say
You never know what to say
You never know what to say

Nobody has me like you do
My appetite has turned to you
I need some answers I'm confused
This puzzle piece belongs to you

[Chorus:]

You always just walk away
You never know what to say
You always just turn around and lead me on to other things
Wondering, wondering what you're feeling inside
Wondering, wondering baby could I be your guy
And you always just walk away, you never know what to say
You never know what to say

[Bridge:]

You never know what to say

Know what to say
You never know what to say (say...)
You never know what to say what what what what to say
You never know what to say (say...)

[Chorus:]
You always just walk away
You never know what to say
You always just turn around and lead me on to other things
Wondering, wondering what you're feeling inside
Wondering, wondering baby could I be your guy
And you always just walk away, you never know what to say
Wondering, wondering
Wondering, wondering
You never know what to say
