I felt ignorance as it pulled me down
Into the gates of nothingness
A guttered reality shattered the lights
Of endless human stupidity
I cross the path of septic ways
That came from one blinded shell
Geography of empty minds
Suffering crewels blindly into the end

As we compromise our souls for digitalization
Pre-washing children minds to satisfy the greed
Our own making is our own fixation
Staring into the glass the binary generation

Changing, all is virtualized; the real; the now
Irrelevant, just a faze we forgot about
Framing all these empty eye, erasing and taming
Feeding theme with lies

Let go of the synthesized, let go of the binary dream
Reality perfected into a square machine
There's nothing left within
It's here nothing can stop it, just a faze of our

Evolution
An anti virus to an organic plague
Rampaging into the new age

Increase; progress; define; Reassess this information
Obsolete reform; circle of a brand new evolution;
REVOLUTION!

Artificial intelligence has replaced our common sense

As we stare into the glass, brain washed by our own
Creation-
The binary generation

Shelving our knowledge in a hard drive
Memory is space not a part of our lives
Digits dictate the way things will be
From all the pixels we can't see reality

Brake this plastic casing of our minds
Free our damned spirits from this electric shrine
Breath the air for what it is
No more threads of unreal burned information
