Say why are you looking for the was I find you scheming on that plane, that I'm not thinking of Say I bet you found another love or even Found another something not to tell me

Now I feel sorry for the things that I've said
Now I feel sorry for the ways I might have held you down
And I feel sorry for the rest of my life
'Cause what comes around, goes around

'Cause I like the way you change your look
I like the way you change your style
I like the way you talk about nothing
And make it worth your while

I like the way you change your look
I like the way you change your style
I like the way you talk about nothing
And make it worth your while

No, I will not miss you when you're gone
I think I'll have to find another word that turns that emotion on
You, you make it so difficult to try
If you're not dreaming when you lie, I guess, you'll teach me

Now I feel sorry for the me's that are you's
Now I feel sorry for the times you tried to tell me why
I'll kill you softly for the rest of my life
Unless you and I see eye to eye

I like the way you change your look
I like the way you change your style
I like the way you talk about nothing
And make it worth your while

I like the way you change your look
I like the way you change your style
I like the way you talk about nothing

And make it worth your while

Why do I keep so much pressure underlined?
It makes me feel for everything that decides to pass me by
Only you see something special in my eyes
She tells me it's wrong for me to cry about almost everything

And I feel so sorry for the ones that don't care
And I feel so sorry there are reasons some will never know
I guess, I'll see you for the rest of my life
But that's what the sun shines for

I like the way you change your look
I like the way you change your style
I like the way you talk about nothing
And make it worth your while

I like the way you change your look
I like the way you change your style
I like the way you talk about nothing
And make it worth your while

You make it worth your while
You make it worth your while
You make it worth your while
