In anything that you do
I will be happy for you, so ecstatic for you Whatever you are to be I hope that you'll think of me, within your sweetest daydreams

Whenever you decide to die
I hope you're fortified with all you want in life Whenever you have to change Don't let it make you run away from all that I have to say

Because they'll love you today
When all they really wanna do is ruin everything, baby

I just can't sleep at nite, knowing the wolves are out to get you
And all the hurt awaiting with life
I just can't walk away knowing the pain might leave you broken

If there's anyone you might hate Don't make my mistakes, let it dissipate
All the things you'll go through I know that they'll punish me, more than they punish you

Anytime guilt is felt Don't touch through no one else, they'll make you hurt yourself Anything you might see looks That looks like it's defeating me, don't be afraid of these things

Because you're stronger than me
And all they really wanna do is ruin everything, baby

I just can't sleep at night, knowing the wolves are out to
get you
And all the hurt awaiting with life
I just can't walk away knowing the pain might leave you
broken

'Cause they'll love you today
All they really wanna do is ruin everything, baby, no

I just can't sleep at night, knowing the wolves are out to
get you
And all the hurt awaiting with life
I just can't walk away knowing the pain might leave you
broken
Knowing the pain that left me broken

In anything that you do
