Like floating in space, like flowers in a fire storm
Like stealing away the parachute slightly torn
No use finding the thread, all of us trying to get

A glimpse of something beautiful
A moments peek through a keyhole
Connect attempt is so feeble.
I'm frozen in a free fall

Inside your brain skyscrapers and foolish gold
You give them away, these precious things you can't hold
No one's standing anymore, what would you do for

A glimpse of something beautiful
A moments peek through a keyhole
Connect attempt is so feeble.
I'm frozen in a free fall

A glimpse of something beautiful
A moments peek through a keyhole
Connected to so few people.
I'm frozen in a free fall

Darling don't run away.
Baby, don't run away from what is good
No use finding the thread, all of us trying to get

A glimpse of something beautiful
A moments peek through a keyhole
Connect attempt is so feeble.
I'm frozen in a free fall

A glimpse of something beautiful
A moments peek through a keyhole
Connected to so few people.
I'm frozen in a free fall
