In a crowded room we were so alone
And the look in your eyes was the truth that I needed.
When would I find a moment more chosen
Away from eyes apart of each other

Could we know another rendezvous
And then who will bring me back to you

Interrogate she won't say the words.
Can I persuade her to realize that this is fate,
Uh oh, please girl, please tell me your name

And so it was some months in the winter.
When all the snow still fell from above me
I came across the girl that had awed me.
And nothing's gonna stand in my way

Then came sparks from out of the blue.
Those that could bring me back to you

Interrogate she won't say the words.
Can I persuade her to realize that this is fate,
Uh oh, please girl, please tell me
Interrogate she won't say the words.
Can I persuade her to realize that this is fate,
Uh oh, please girl, please tell me your name

Uh oh, please girl, please tell me your name

Interrogate she won't say the words.
Can I persuade her to realize that this is fate uh oh
Uh oh, please girl, please tell me
Interrogate she won't say the words.
Can I persuade her to realize that this is fate
Uh oh, please girl, please tell me your name
