Know your enemies well
They enter your life disguised as your friends
Know your enemies well
They're in the next room waiting for you to fall asleep

(Why?)
I don't know how you can live such a lie?
To yourself, now I know who you are
(Why?)
I can forgive but I'll never forget
How you put a price on my head

So little I can say and less that I can do
To make you understand these things you put me
through
There's got to be a better way
There's got to be a better way

They're trying to silence my voice
They're feeling uncomfortable hearing my words
They wish I would shut the fuck up
Exposing the enemy, truth always comes at a price

(Why?)
I don't know how you can live such a lie?
To yourself, now I know who you are
(Why?)
I can forgive, but I'll never forget
How you put a price on my head

So little I can say and less that I can do
To make you understand these things you put me
through
There's got to be a better way
There's got to be a better way

Know your enemies well
Trust nothing and no one 'cuz everything
(Sucks)
Know your enemies well
Don't sleep for a minute 'cuz that's when you're

(Fucked)

(Why?)

I don't know how you can live such a lie?

To yourself, now I know who you are

(Why? Hhh)

I can forgive, but I'll never forget

How you put a price on my head

So little I can say and less that I can do

To make you understand these things you put me
through

There's got to be a better way

(Aey aey aey)

There's got to be a better way

(Aey aey aey)

There's got to be a better way

(Aey aey aey)

There's got to be a better way

(Aey aey aey)
