See their hands in the air
They lift up their prayers to the air
The life that you live
Time that you give to the air
It don't seem fair

Something is wrong with the machine
Your aberration slowly drain
You of your will to be yourself
I got that feeling that something is missing
I got that feeling that something is wrong

See the man in the ground
I bury him up with the ground
You wait for a sign
You sit on the, line 'em up
Let the master decide
Something is wrong
