You are witnessing the falling of my pride
You are listening as I crumble from inside

There are no secrets
Only voices you haven't heard
There is no justice
Only living what you've learned
Listen?

You cannot use me
You cannot fade me
You will never win

Tear a page from out my book
Take a second look
Steal away part of my life
Turn me out inside
My sacrifice was not my own
I was not alone
I keep running from myself
And getting nowhere

There is nothing I can say, I haven't said
Thank you for listening to these voices in my head

This is my revelation
Lord, this is the end
This is my exodus
Oh Lord, I'll break before I bend

You cannot use me
You cannot fade me
You will never win

Tear a page from out my book
Take a second look
Steal away part of my life
Turn me out inside
My sacrifice was not my own
I was not alone
I keep running from myself

And getting nowhere

Praying for one last breath
I am dying inside
You can't just walk away
You've got to swallow my pride
I slide my pain in you
It hurts, just like it feels
I take it out on you
And make this lie so real

Take a second look
Steal away part of my life
Turn me out inside
My sacrifice was not my own
I was not alone
I just keep running from myself
And getting nowhere
Getting nowhere?
