Cars are made to drive people around Race each other cross town Or for making out in when you're young

Cans are made for soda and soup and lemonade Drinking beer out of a hot day
Or for freebasing crack and cocain

Paper is made to write stuff on And I love you or I'll be gone Newspapers, books are good for you Isolation when the roof falls off yeah

Beds are made for sleeping the day away
Or making kids in when you're on holiday To dream your dreams in while getting your beauty sleep
Or hiding under if you're scared of monsters

But guns are made to kill people to kill people
to kill people

And bombs are made to kill people
to kill people
to kill people

If there is a God I know we let her down
This can't be what she planned
This can't be what she planned

Someday they'll send their planes and drop all the bombs at once
And turn this planet into a new born sun Take your guns and see if they work for you
As isolation when the skies falls off, yeah
