"Running Horse"

There's a picture of a horse that's running
Hanging here right before my eyes
Always there to remind me
Of the best of old times

With those eyes of fire
Running like the wind
Gonna take me down
Forgotten trails again

And who knows where it's going
Maybe it's all gonna show
But I'm betting on the horse that's running
Sane as before

Never been one to follow
He would set his own pace
Nothing that he would allow
To take it all away

Before the sun sets on everyone
And falls into the sea
You will find me on the horse that's running
That's where I'll be
