Speech:

Deep in the ocean of darkness
In the mirror of light
Balance becomes a stranger
And in your fantasies he writes a storm on your peace

Beyond the shadow you settle for
There is a miracle, illuminated.

Deep in the ocean of darkness
In the mirror of light
Balance becomes a stranger
And in your fantasies he writes a storm on your peace
Wake up and smell the danger

Ever the light casts a shadow
Ever the night springs from the light

In the end
It's never just the light you need
When balance slays the demon
You'll find peace

In the end
It's never just the dark you seek
When balance slays the demon
You'll find peace

Find your peace! Oh YEAHHH!

Speech:

Beyond the lake he called home
Lies a deeper, darker ocean green

Like an evil twin
Feel it scratchin' within

Like an insane sudden rangin'
And his beautiful face with his leathery lace
So can't you see the play he's staging?

Ever the light casts a shadow
Ever the night springs from the light

In the end
It's never just the light you need
When balance slays the demon
You'll find peace

In the end
It's never just the dark you seek
When balance slays the demon
You'll find peace

Find your peace! OH! YEAH YEAH YEAH YEAH YEAH! AH!

In the end
It's never just the light you need
When balance slays the demon
You'll find peace

In the end
It's never just the dark you seek
When balance slays the demon
You'll find peace

Find your peace! OH YEAH!

Speech:
Screaming, new darkness
Descend on this frail frame
I drown in fathomless black space
Will I never scratch the depths of this domain?
I see not, yet nothing could be worse
Than the shades my mind calls here in
Alone, in my own wake
The unraveling
Of reasons schemed
