[Dom Pachino] Yo, you tell me that you love me, when you know how I feel about it Like I'm claustrophobic, and this mic booth, is getting crowded I've been hurt before, yeah, I've been hurt, too But that's emotional, something that we all go through Would it make it better if I hold you, let's take it slow, boo I'd really like to get to know you, before I show you Exactly how a pro do, but that's physical And mentally, I'd like to grow with you You see, the old me would of been all over you Cuz your hot, but I'm not gonna ruin it for lust I'd rather have a friendship, someone that I can trust But if we fall in love, you know it's genuine Because we was lovers, we was best friends You see, I don't wanna hurt you, like I did my ex She's a woman scorned, I probably, gave her a complex I was really wrong, and that's why she picked up and left And now that she's gone, I'm willing to confess I had a disease, I was addicted to sex...
