There are two roads, how will I know?
Sometimes the right direction is something I can't see
I hear the wind blow and I can feel it
But I know my emotions can play a trick on me

My heart wants to tell me
Your heart wants to tell me

If it's got love
If it's got peace
That's the only way that I can believe it
If it leads me to the light

If it's got joy
If it's got truth
Something that's gonna take a little faith to do
To make the pieces fit
God is in it
God is in it, hey yeah yeah
God is in it

What I'm hearing, sounds convincing
It's hard to decipher if all the words are real
I am learning to be discerning
Is this conversation something he's revealed?

We need to define
If it's something divine

If it's got love
If it's got peace
That's the only way that I can believe it
If it leads me to the light

If it's got joy
If it's got truth
Something that's gonna take a little faith to do
To make the pieces fit
God is in it

Whatever's lovely
Whatever's pure

Whatever's from his word will endure
You'll know it's right
You'll see the signs

If it's got love
If it's got peace
That's the only way that I can believe it
If it leads me to the light

If it's got joy
If it's got truth
Something that's gonna take a little faith to do
To make the pieces fit

If it's got love
If it's got peace
That's the only way that I can believe it
If it leads me to the light

If it's got joy
If it's got truth
God is in it
God is in it, hey yeah yeah
God is in it

God is in it
God is in it, hey yeah yeah
