My father, my son,
My holy ghost
You know the things
I've missed the most
To feel his skin upon my skin
God let me do it all again

Just to feel him again
Just to feel him again
Just to feel him again
Just to feel him again

God let me give you back these wings
I'll trade them for the little things
All these fantastic dreams of flight
I'd even give up all my light

Just to feel him again
Just to feel him again
Just to feel him again
Just to feel him again

God let me do it all again
To feel his skin upon my skin
My eyes to settle in his gaze
To feel his focus on me

Just to feel him again
Just to feel him again
Just to feel him again
Just to feel him again
Just to feel him again
Just to feel him again
