Choke on your forked tongue as you lie to me again
Say it's too early to show how we feel
Just shove me away / but what can be said
To someone who can't hear
Or comprehend your actions
I've lost faith in what I've been told / it's all a lie
I show true feelings always feeling the pain
Smash me to the ground a thousand times as before
But I can't rationalize anymore / carry me away
On concrete pillows incinerate me once more
Love means nothing to you anymore
Blood stains on the wall with disfigured forms / end me
