

Poison Idea "Short Fuse"

Last night I could have taken on the world and then some
but I know it's just a romour of adrenaline
Another drink another fight
Another display of lust tonight
I cant control my feelings. They're out of hand
For that my emotions are on the losing end
But when I lay them on the line
It starts in front it ends behind
But it comes rinding to a halt. The time of my life
I'm sorry about this morning
I was thinking about last night.
Tonight I'll take on the world and then some
But I know it's just a romour of adrenaline
Another stare another fifth
An evening sealed with a blood-smearred kiss
You looked quite upset when I whispered in your ear
I disturbed sweet nothings with a mouth full of beer
