You said, you will be there
If I need some arms around me
But now I stand here alone
With tears in my eyes
You said, you are so happy
And you never felt so safe
But now I stand here alone
A withering rose in my hand

Now my heaven is black
And it's getting colder and colder
My soul yearns for the sun
That left this world in a raging storm

You said, that you love me

And our love will last forever
But you left me here alone
And lay in someone else's arms

Now my heaven is black
And it's getting colder and colder
My soul yearns for the sun
That left my world in a raging storm

I always cared for you
I always believed in you
But though you broke my heart
I'm still loving you
Let my heart go and
Set me free - release me
