

Poison The Well

"A) The View From Here Is ... B) A Brick Wall"

Visit "A\) The View From Here Is ... B\) A Brick Wall" on MotoLyrics.com

Covered from head to toe in lighting
It's constantly changing when I'm around
Days left before this is over and over and over And done with

The sheets keep whispering, "Will you make it through this day?"
I'll practice making scenarios that aren't really there
The corner hasn't helped in so long, it speeds everything up now
Back and forth, walking every piece of baggage off of me

Hope when it hits the ground, they'll turn to ash
Sing the words, even don't make sense at all
I believe letters, I believe letters, keep me warm
I believe letters, keep me warm
I believe letters, keep me company

Tonight and forever in this room with moon lighting
Even though it doesn't make sense

Visit Poison The Well page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.