Wrap around the white pavement feels so inviting
So lie back and gain bruises with me
It's been a long time since I've seen you from above
And you're still beautiful

Leave here we'll start something new in our embrace
With that crash your parts into mine
Intoxicate me with your many voices
I'll never leave you, I'll never leave here, I'll never leave you

Intoxicate me with all our voices
And crash your parts into mine

So lost inside of you till now I think we waited too long
So lost inside of you till now I think we waited too long Lock your doors and close your shades I'll never find

Leave here we'll start something new in our embrace
