And you never...
And you never... understand

when you always... when you always... act the same

oh beautiful your lips taste of red and copper it's always exciting me

And you never...
And you never... understand

when you always...
when you always... understand

I need to hear your laugh when I'm dying on the other line
you perform better when I'm not near you and it cracks the world spins away and I'm flying again

I can't believe
I can't believe that this is over again
I can't believe
I can't believe!!!!
pieces will carry away pieces of you in me

oh beautiful your lips taste of red and copper
it's always exciting me!
