I sometimes wonder about myself
Couldn't I just be making this all up as I go along?
Though I feel alone at times shouldn't I feel like I belong?

I imagine myself to be who I want to be Though I feel along at time shouldn't I feel like I belong?

Oh, I can hear those trumpets, they are playing for me
and only me
They are there to remind me I'm alive

I sometimes wonder about myself
Couldn't I just be making this all up as I go along?
Though I feel alone at times shouldn't I feel like I
belong?

I imagine myself to be who I want to be Though I feel along at time shouldn't I feel like I belong?

Oh, I can hear those trumpets, they are playing for me
and only me
They are there to remind me I'm alive, alive, alive,
alive, alive

I sometimes wonder about myself
Couldn't I just be making this all up as I go along?

I was born out of nowhere as if I had been dropped from the sky
My mother, the clouds that cushioned me
My sister, the flowers I saw on my way down
My brother cradled me as I laid there alone
