You continue to walk; where are you going?
If you stand still, you can ask the wind.
Make use of the token for the old times of one eye;
Your life has no more than begun.
Seek for something before long.
Extending the palm of your small hand,
You instantly found out, right?
That you are not just somebody

To celebrate your birthday, you increased the candles but
Your journey for your hometown has no more than begun.
Now, also, seek for something.
Shine, your wide eyes.
In your pocket,
You are not someone royal....

Many encounters;
Many separations.
Like an illusion, memory also has a little...

You continue to walk; where are you going?
Looking at the sky, you can ask the wind.

You continue to walk; where are you all going?
With the wind, walk again.

Step onto the great earth, going where until you're
done
Aim for that dream until you seize it.

Step onto the great earth, going where until you're
done
Aim for that dream until you seize it.

La la la la....
