"Big Appetite"

Why can't we be happy with what's happening
Instead of always running for the door
When ambition is starting to sting
It keeps us always wanting more

Well hey, hey alright, we got a big appetite
Oh oh my love, when is enough enough

And when it hits you, happens so fast
Sometimes it's hard, hard to keep track
I could tell you what you already know
But I can't tell you what it is to let go

Hey, hey alright, we got a big appetite
Oh oh my love, when is enough enough
Cause it's never been easy to let what will be just be

And when we're looking at the love all around us
Does it blind us or is that what this whole thing is for?
Our love might be boundless but we always need more

Hey, hey alright, we got a big appetite
Oh oh my love, when is enough enough
Hey, hey alright, we got a big appetite
Oh oh my love, sometimes it's never enough
Cause it's never been easy to let what will be just be
