Yeah

I think its something she puts on

Inhaled it cleans these bachelor lungs

The scene will throw its mark on the road you pave

Just wipe it off

Ill watch my step to fall for her

I hear a voice collapse a wall

The world is deaf so save your songs

This is the bed we lay in

These are the roads were paving

Hold out of something more complete

Still you hurricane my empty beach

The eyes of saints go without sleep yeah

Across to calm your baby

These pockets built a house of straw

You need no wolves inside your womb

Gone is the path we laid

This is the ring or so Im told

That holds a trust between two souls together

To never give up together
