I'm a virgo moon with a leo heart
People been saying I live too hard
But I know just how to hang on loose
And find my place in the here and now
You may think I drift on the winds of change
Truth of it all is it's all arranged
And I'm going where I need to go
On my way in the here and now

Oh, in the here and now
I'm happy to be alive
Took so long to figure out
How love grows in my heart

Now according to my astral chart
I'm getting off to a real late start
It's a karma thing but I don't mind
Gives me time for the scenic ride

Love the earth as she spins another day
Thank the sun, the wind and the rain
The finer things in life are in your own backyard
