I was dreaming, I was saving us when I
Woke to find that I didn't know what day it was
I turned to reach you
I didn't see you... am I still dreaming?

Wait, why'd you have to leave that way?
My head is spinning--I could swear
That I heard the sound of someone else
But there's nothing but your ghost and myself

Now I'm wide awake and praying somehow
I'll be able to forget this whole thing now
This changes everything
This house still looks the same without you
And I'm still screaming

Wait, why'd you have to leave that way?
My head is spinning I could swear
That I heard the sound of someone else
But it's nothing but your ghost and myself

Wait, why'd you have to leave that way?
My head is spinning I could swear
That I heard the sound of someone else
But it's nothing but your ghost and myself
