Pocket full of money, got a big smile all on my face
Boy, I can charm the diamonds right off the back of a rattlesnake
But you've got me so confused, cut me cold as ice
I ain't used to losing, guess I'm playing with the loaded dice

Well the first time that I saw you, said you'd just dumped your old man
Then the next time you was dealin', must have dealt me a losing hand
Woman I tried to win your love, just can't pay the price
Keep throwing in sevens, I keep on playing with the loaded dice

Well I thought I was a hustler but you sent me back to school
Keep playing some new game, making up your own rules
I must be some kind of crazy to let you fool me twice
I don't know why I keep playing with the loaded dice

Well, tonight I hit the jackpot, I was shining like a diamond ring
Lady luck was smiling
And the old snake charmer was doing a thing, doing a thing
You're seeing the tables turn, man it sure felt nice
Now we see who's laughing, now we see who's playing with the loaded dice

Girl you ain't like nothing I've ever seen before Keep throwing in aces, I keep coming back for more
Guess I should have listened but you can't give a fool advice
I don't know why I keep playing with loaded dice
I don't know why I keep playing with loaded dice
Hey I don't know why I keep playing with loaded dice
Loaded dice
