when you made me go, it was sad for all of my life you didn't have the [pain?] that you were lovin' every breath i take watchin' every move i make it takes some kind of fool, some kind of fool although i tried a lot, i couldn't win when i took you in, you were ungrateful and now, now you were lovin' every breath i take watchin' every move i make

to get over you.

i would go every hour and i see you standin' there in the slow retreating snow of our life it's a bitter sun that shines now you were lovin' every breath i take

to get over you.
