Talk to me talk
I'm a man on a mission
And you better do listen
I'm a man on a mission
And you better do listen

There's a call and it calls
Let us tear down the walls
Are you sure you want to proceed

While you break all the seals
Find what darkness reveals
Come the daylight and change your creed

If you do read the signs
You know pale lights don't shine
Echoes don't glow like the sun
There's the dark side of moon
Where white knights find their tomb
So wait 'till the morning shall come

Now don't you talk, talk to the moon
Talk to me instead you must see
If you do, you will find soon
Darkness falls much too easily
Don't you talk, talk to the moon

I'm a man on a mission
And you better do listen
I'm a man on a mission
And you better do listen

Tried to raise your own star
But you could not get far
All illusions are bound to fail
It's not truth you did find
You still do feel struck blind
What you seek for you could not unveil
