Cigarretes and taste of your JD
That room can't hide the lips of my lady
She is sometimes kind of brave and through her glass and ice
I'm loosing all my senses

Why don't you dance in front of me?
I was so upset, babe, but you got me
Who knows if you're waiting for anything
Until the night is over

They're playing that song again and your eyes are following
The best way to get into my mind
The people is looking arround to see how you move
You feel mischievous

Why don't you dance in front of me?
I was so upset, babe, but you got me
Who knows if you're waiting for anything
Until the night is over
