"Love In Vain"

Love in vein
And out of spite too
If it flows through your wrist then
It must be true
My love's in vein with an incurable cure
Was it brown or white
I didn't know what to do
I didn't look at what you did
Just stuck to the corner my eyes locked with my feet
I didn't know, I didn't have a clue
I couldn't think of anything better to do

I don't know why
He stood on my feet
And said "Please please
Get on your knees
And find the man
The real man in me
Now please please please
Get on your f*cking knees
And love me in vain
And out of spite too
If it flows through my blood then it must be true
Now love the rush like I love you
There's nothing better to do"
