I know the feelings you've been through, I didn't want it
All just confusion hitting you, no one could want it
And when all was well the clearness finally hit me
This feeling wasn't real but created to die in me

Frustration, dropped to pieces
Selfishness never hurt a heart
But selfless killed a saviour
Confidence ends providence
Provided there's motive in your mind

I know the feelings you've been through, I didn't want it
All just confusion hitting you, no one could want it
And when all was well the clearness finally hit me
This feeling wasn't real but created to die in me

It's hard to take it
I know you'll break
So dream it away
Battling your brain
The war is larger than the world, it's unforgettable

Inhale
You'll do better
But you have no glory
Exhale
You'll do better
But you have no glory

What lies before me will break
What cost a heartache will fall

Frustration, dropped to pieces
Selfishness never hurt a heart
But selfless killed a saviour

I know the feelings you've been through, I didn't want it
All just confusion hitting you, no one could want it
And when all was well the clearness finally hit me
This feeling wasn't real but created to die in me
