Criticize and hit the face of my semi-literal translation
It's only time that keeps us waiting
Let's go!

Without the string or the wood you're just a simple puppet
Chances are when you're through,
All the ones you serve will take you down

Leave me, chastising
When will it be enough?
Intolerance of mistake will leave us both undying
Quit lying and leave me for your fighting but you'll never see me hiding

Misleading words lead to our deception
But we carry on our lives
Without a fight, without an action
Is this the end of the fight?

So you try and take control and overthrow your kings
You're drowning in a sea of greed
All in which you created all alone

Leave me, chastising
When will it be enough?
Quit lying and leave me for your fighting but you'll
never see me hiding
