Bring all you've got cause I'm sure as hell ready for you
You forged this war and selected all the proud but yet the few

You can't take it back now so finish what you started
But it's all gone away, unresolved and unregarded

Is this all that we believe in?
We see the walls they're tearing down
And I witnessed this all so drown me now

It brought us together, collective suffering
And it made us stronger
But now this town is burning down
Down to where it began
What exactly did we do to make it right?
This final blow will counteract our power

This town is liberty (drown me now)
This town is society (drown me now)
This town is justice (drown me now)
