The lyrics below are from the song, "Song for Whoever" from the Welcome to the Beautiful South album...

I love you from the bottom of my pencil case

I love you in the songs I write and sing.
Love you because you put me in my rightful place and I love the PRS cheques that you bring.

Cheap
never cheap
I sing you songs 'til you're asleep

when you've gone upstairs I'll creep and write it all down.

Oh Shirley
oh Debbie
oh Julie
oh Jane

I wrote so many songs about you I forget your name

- I forgot your name -.

Annabel
too

- I forgot your name -.

I love you from the bottom of my pencil case

I love the way you never ask me why.

I love to write it down each wrinkle on your face and I love you 'til my fountain pen runs dry.

Deep so deep

the number one I hope to reap

depends upon the tears you weep

so cry

lovey cry

cry

cry.

Oh Cathy

oh Alison

oh Phillipa

oh Sue

you made me so much money

I wrote this song for you
