In the name of love and life
Turn your face to the lonely night
But you're not alone when she calls you home
And this your world is on the edge
As good as lost but you know the way
Through this faceless town
And she pulls me down

I know the place and the time (of our lives)
So long ago
And all through the years (never dies)
All things must pass

Irresistible force meets an immovable object and
Human animal madness and blood starts to flow
Invisible fingers and indescribable pleasure
I get to find my personal God
I get to find my personal God

God of love, God of gold
Ring of fire in the days of old
It's what I'm living for
And love's the only law
So answer Mayday S.O.S.
Search me North, East, South, or West
It's all I miss, just the one last kiss

This is goodbye to the days (of our lives)
My fair-weather friend
I feel your sorrow and tears (they are mine)
I share to the end

Irresistible force meets an immovable object and Human animal magic
How far can you go?
The rolling of thunder and you decide what you're after

I get to find my personal God
I get to find my personal God

I surrender
All or nothing
You must spread your wings and fly

I know the place and time (of our lives)

My fair-weather friend
I feel your sorrow and tears (they are mine)
We share to the end
When an irresistible force meets an immovable object
Human animal madness and blood starts to flow
There's bound to be heartbreak
You make it the hard way

I surrender
All or nothing
You must spread your wings and fly
