Sinking ships,
watching the sail in the sun as it sinks in the sea,
crashing planes,
burn in the eyes of the girl with the smile on her face, so I say to myself that its real,
take a look inside myself and I feel.
Drum man comes, wind blows the sign up and down with a squeak in the sun, funny day banging the door to a close as its hurting my knee,
so I say to myself that its real,
take a look inside myself and I feel.
Sinking ships,
watching the sail in the sun as it sinks in the sea,
crashing planes,
burn in the eyes of the girl with the smile on her face,
so I say to myself that its real,
