"Two People"

If there's a time I feel downhearted
I close my eyes and I see you there
Shower me , my precious love
With all the good things two people can share

When it seems like the sky is falling
I need you near me so desperately
'cause we forget so easily
All the magic two people can be

Being lonely makes it oh so hard for me to carry on
Oh, though I know you're so far away
I'm reaching for you , needing you both night and day

Sometimes a man finds out too late
That life slips by each moment we live
'cause we don't know how rare it is
All the loving two people can give

(break)

And though I know you're so far away
I'm reaching for you , needing you both night and day

If there's a time I feel downhearted
I close my eyes and I see you there
Shower me , my precious love
With all the good things two people can share

When it seems like the sky is falling
I need you near me so desperately
'cause we forget so easily
All the magic two people can be

Can be
