Ever felt like you needed guidance through though the streets once where familiar?
Oh so hard try to get out of the blue
When there's no one there for you
Grand Central Station
in a crowd of rushing people
I saw a lion
in a dream I had last night

You know that it's true
This lion is you
This lion is you

Oh walk me home
To that distant place
To that foreign land
Where we belong
Oh walk me home
To that distant place
To that foreign land
Where we belong

All these faces keep on passing by Still there's no one you can talk to You just keep on walking straight ahead but you don't know where to go
Grand Central Station
in a crowd of rushing people
I saw a lion
in a dream I had last night

You know that it's true
This lion is you
This lion is you

Oh walk me home
To that distant place
To that foreign land
Where we belong
