we saw the sun for what she was when august reached its peak we bleached our hair to live beyond the dream at night we spoke of what we'd seen within these walls we swam in white liquid radiation from the screen danger lurks in fallens leafs we thought this to be true we spend the cold november in this room the way you looked me in the eyes like promising a child we'll rent a million video's tonight i was sure that one is one it's fair to assume it's not many things were said and done it's all wrong
trials and tribulations one day at a time when christmas celebrations got me down you meant to say it wasn't so but never was it more it was the bliss of looking your eyes
two seas
one shore
and when you think it's time that's when it's overdue that's what it is to wait for the new
we bleached our hair to live beyond the dream
