

Porcelain And The Tramps

"Four Chords That Made A Million"

Visit "Four Chords That Made A Million" on MotoLyrics.com

[Written by Steven Wilson]

Six of one a half a dozen
Black guitars and plastic blues
Hide behind a wall of nothing
Nothing said and nothing new

4 Chords that made a million

You belong there on the cover
You are the emperor in new clothes
A man who thinks he owns the future
Will sell your vacuum with his prose

4 Chords that made a million

And then a moron with a cheque book
Will take you out to lunch who knows ?
He will tell you you're a saviour
And then he'll drop you like a stone

4 Chords that made a million

And I have tried and I have died
Trying to get through
But in the end I can't defend you.

4 Chords that made a million

Visit Porcelain And The Tramps page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.