

All Shall Perish "Wage Slaves"

Visit "Wage Slaves" on MotoLyrics.com

Scathing attacks of time and torment
When we Sleep walk our lives away these thieves
They've made
Our hearts break
So now I'm screaming Attacks of heartless horror At them their cash cant kill us all and We have built we have, we have built upon their dream to long Don't be their fucking slaves We live in exploitation We have worked blind endless means they have turned our failure into what they need So Break these shackles and take a stand we are the gears
we are the ones they fear take their crowns away They wont take away my life, a slave no longer in my mind I
Break these shackles and take a stand to tell the world
The revolt returns
Break these shackles and take a stand to tell the world
GET UP
We live in exploitation We have worked blind endless means
they have turned our failure into what they need
