So I got all these things
And so...in the end
I can't take them with you

You think you can save my soul...
Well okay
Tell me with all your conviction,
What happens now?
What happens now?

Well I could be boarding an aircraft
With a bomb, concealed in somebody's briefcase.
And my body will spread through the heavens,
Across the sky.
And my ashes will fall through the cloudburst

What happens now?
What happens now?
What happens now?
What happens now?
