"Forever Morphing"

Forever Morphing, constantly changing.
What once is no longer and will never be again.
Nothing evolves into existence, existence decends into nothing.
Grains melting into smooth fractures form upon the surface.
The form shatters as paradigms shift.
Echelons fall from far heights, innocence disobeys to disappear.
Thoughts are transformed into reality.
Borders shimmer translucently.

Life and death cycle to originate.
Weakness turns into strength from the beginning unto the end.
Fate has chosen chaos to rule this world.
Feel the wrath of the illusion.

Knowledge becomes our weakness.
The point of imperceptions remains.
We will never be the same again.
We are nothing, a solitary thought amongst the span of time.
