While walking one day in the country I saw a gathering crowd
And as my footsteps threw me closer I smell the sweet fragrance of flowers
It looked like a family reunion and my eyes not counted the tears

And the no man said by the graveside I haven't seen
Mary in years
Hold my hand and leave me leave me away from here
I just brought these flowers for Mary I haven't seen
Mary in years

When Mary and I were first married we had such plans for our child
But for no reason I started rambling and like four winds
I just ran wild
If I could just live my life over I would bring Mary such cheer
Now she's gone where she'll never need me I haven't seen Mary in years
Hold my hand and leave me

Then the old man left the graveyard and as I walk along by his side
When I called his name through all his shame Why his son he didn't even recognize
Hold my hand and leave me leave me away from here How could I know it was mama, I haven't seen mama in years
How could I know it was mama, I haven't seen mama in
