Mama died years ago left us kids so alone

But before she left she told me son you've got to carry on

You're the oldest boy Bill so teach your brothers right

Then she handed me her Bible said follow by its light

The boys have all grown up now the baby just left home

And I can rest with ease now for I know they're not alone

They've got the many blessings that I read every day

From the pages of mama's Bible to guide them on their way
