Everyone I know
Is trying to get into this show
Everybody is a fucking liar
Time and time again
Whoever's in the room is your friend
Everybody is a fucking liar

There's no mercy here
A mercy killing of abject fear
Everybody is a fucking liar
Act brave in the press
Conventionality's what I detest
Everybody is a fucking liar

And you who reject masculinity
Baby, I'm with you
As soon as you forsake virility
And aggression too

Back off in disgust
Must honesty jeopardize trust?
Is everybody such a fucking liar?
Damsels in dismay
A man's an Edsel in his own way
Everybody is a fucking liar

And just as God in his his infinite infancy
Thinks he's in control
That's when God in his infinite infamy
Decides to damn our souls

Let's throw it all in
And think of places to back up and begin
To build something higher

'Cause everybody is a fucking liar
Everybody is a fucking liar
Everybody is a fucking liar
