The lines across your face
Are drawn with hate
'Cause I'm drawn to someone else
Looks like you could use a little sleep

I had some I didn't mention
You caught me coming late, framed by the door
Onto a floor that's freshly waxed
And that's my tracks raises

Some important questions
I ask you to be nice it has no effect
And I suspect that you suspect
But didn't I say feelings were the last things to make themselves felt ?

Don't make me explain myself you don't need to know
What's going on in my big head right now
It could appear that I could have a statement prepared, but
Don't make me open my big mouth

The words come quickly I feel sick
I use that for an excuse to exit
Looks like you don't buy it
And I'm trying your patience

But what I leave unsaid sticks in my head
The guilt puts me in a spotlight
Looks like I might reveal
You're not my sole engagement

I ask you to shut up it's say's if I didn't Know myself I wish you didn't Know I can't turn back
But I didn't plan to tell you that

Don't make me explain myself, you don't need to know
What's going on in my big head right now
It could appear that I could want to defend me
But don't make me open my big mouth

You tell me to get out I can't get out of it
And I wish that we both could split
Splitting doesn't mean the end of the backlash
That I couldn't defend

Don't make me explain myself
You wouldn't like what you find
Inside my, inside my big head
It could appear that I would want to reassure your doubts
Don't make me open my big mouth

Don't make me, don't make me
Don't make me, don't make me
Don't make me open my big mouth
