I promise that I'll will be there
To hold your hand when the wind blows in your back
I promise that I'll will be there
To catch you when you fall

The darkness has taken over your life
Making you hide from civilization
Blood running from your eyes
He's taking over you

I'm sitting in a dark room at night
Not knowing who you are no more
You'r the devil in discise
Trying to break everything in others lifes

The darkness has taken over your life
Making you hide from civilization
Blood running from your eyes
He's taking over you

He's taking over you life
He's

The darkness has taken over your life
Making you hide from civilization
Blood running from your eyes
He's taking over you
